193	CLIN 0010 and CLIN 0001AA		No Amendment Required	Given that Phase-In (CLIN 0010) is for "Preparatory efforts necessary for the offeror to assume responsibility for performance" (up to 60 days), and CLIN 0001AA is for support of a 12-month flying hour program (Oct. 04 through Sept. 05), is our assumption correct that offerors are to submit a 12-month cost for CLIN 0001AA for evaluation purposes only? We further assume that performance responsibility does not begin until the end of Phase-In (i.e., the end of the incumbent's performance responsibility).	For Evaluation purposes we will multiply your estimated cost per flight hour times the estimated flight hours (in Section B). Your proposal should reflect only the cost you have estimated you will incur for fully burdened direct labor cost. The responsibility for performance will be based upon the winning offerors Phase-In plan. It should be noted that all Phase-In activities to include changes in meeting new contract requirements should be considered in pricing.
194	CLIN 0001AB		No Amendment Required	The answer to question #179, regarding CLIN 0001AB, leads us to assume that satellite units and other specific tasks (I.e., backshops) are to be priced in CLIN 0001AB, based on Attachment 6a. Is our assumption correct, even though the title for CLIN 0001AB is "Material/Subcontracts"?	CLIN 0001AA is for fully burdened maintenance labor hours. All maintenance labor, including support costs for satellite units are to be priced in CLIN 0001AA. All other costs to provide support to these units are to be priced in CLIN 0001AB.
195	Amendment 0006 - Flying Hours Program for FY04		Amendment 0007	Amendment 0006 revised the Flying Hour Program for FY04 in Schedule B. Please provide an updated Attachment 4, which allocates the flying hours for the year by month by fleet. Without these data, our staffing model for the proposal would be based on assumptions for each fleet's monthly hours, rather than Government-provided information	Attachment 4 has been updated and incorporated via Amendment 0007.
